Bestruction of Anciest Monuments.

One of the most deplorable facts connected with the east is destruction of ancient monuments. Marble col-umns, statues, capitals of exquisite workmanship, and various other works of art, such as exist in ruined cities, are being collected by the natives and burned into lime. Mr. Wood testifies to this fact at Ephesus, and Mr. F. W. Percival states that, "The Temple of Cybele at Sardis has never been excavated, and the soil has accumulated above the pavement to a depth of at least twenty-five feet; but even this is not sufficient to preserve it, for I found when I was there that a quarry had been dug on the north side, and what splendid blocks of marble were being broken up into small pieces to burn in the neighboring limekiln." Of the Temple of Diana at Tekeh he says

"The walls of the peribolus are standing to a height of about twenty feet, and they have hitherto been the most perfect of their kind existing, but I fear that they will soon disappear altogether, for I saw a number of men employed in pulling them down and carting away the stones for building pur-There is no apparent remedy for this, and, in fact, it is no new thing, for this matter of borrowing building materials has gone on for centuries. This system of stealing, also the practice of burning into lime, has been carried to a great extent in Palestine.

"Some old ruins have been drawn upon by neighboring and modern towns to such an extent that almost nothing is left of them. The explorer may be certain that he is standing on the site of some ancient and famous city, but it is a matter of wonder to him what has become of it. At the north end of the plain of Fennesareth, there is an important buried town. It is near Kahn Minich, and, in my judgment, is Caper-naum The walls, where we ourselves saw them exposed, were built of fine blocks of stone, and the whole structure appeared to be of superior work manship, but these walls are rapidly being dug up by the natives and converted into lime.

A Patent Chalk Mark

Not long ago a man applied at the patent office, in Washington, for a pat-ent of an invention; which was refused him, as the examiner said, "because the invention was merely a chalk mark, and a man must be crazy to suppos that a chalk mark could be patented But the man went to court, and last week got a decision in his favor, in the Building Stone, Water Table, Kepiep's Wabash, St. L. and P. No. 4. shape of a mandamus compelling the commissioner of patents to issue the patent. The judge said that a chalk mark could be patented if its application was useful and original. In this case it was applied to a piece of pasteboard, cut in a strip and fastened together in a circular form, with beveled edges, so that it could be shipped over sugar buckets, jars of sweetmeats, cake boxes, and other things to which insects are attracted. The man claims that all insects are repelled by chalk; and this circle of pasteboard, well chalked and tightly fitted, will act as a perfect guard against them.

KEPLER'S GREAT WABASH LINE OF FINE HAND-MADE HAVANAS is the production we place before the smoking public, and we guarantee these cigars to be just what we say they are, and we boldly say that at their prices they have no superiors in the market, nor do we intend they shall have The W. St. L. & P. No. I is a large 5-inch hand-made Havana, made by experts, of the best Havana we have been able to find in the market. No. 2 is a very fine hand-made 4% inch Havana, and as a tencent or three. for 25 cent cigar No. 2 has no superior. No. 3 is the purest Havana hand-made 5 cent cigar that we or any one else can produce for the price, and we guarantee No. 3 equal in merit to two-thirds of the 10-cent cigars in the market. We challenge any expert to cut to pieces No. J and examine himself as to the truth of what we have said. No. 4 is a fine 5 cent or 6 for 25 cent cigar, and contains more fine stock than nine tenths of the cigars intended to be retailed at 5 cents straight. Fine cigars are better, richer, and more fragrant in smoke when fresh, than when old and dried out. We use no cheap, worthless flavoring extracts in our cigars, but we depend alone for their merit upon the fine stock of which they are made and the workmanship of creet cigar makers. We respectfully solicit a trial. Every cigar warranted a pericet smoker.

the Demograts in 1875, and assiduously cultivated since, have been counted upon as important factors in securing Democratic success. Republican States at the South were "bull-dozed" into consummate frauds will help now, and where they propose to work these frauds they give no uncertain sign. They are trying to unseat Washburn in Minnegame of "steal" in Maine, and have t they are determ ined to wreat them from their natural allegiance by any means in their power It remains for the Republicans only to be discreet and united, and every North. ern State, with 231 Electoral votes, is theirs. No Republican will vote for a Copporhead or a Secessionist. They will stand by the settlements of the war and the men who made those settlements possible. The past is secure, were comparatively unnoticed, and left to be long afterward related in print Miss Annie Pickens, daughter of the governor of South Carolina, was to be married on April 22, 1863, in Charlestou, to Lieut. Andrew De Rochelle. The wedding party was assembled in the Pickens residence, and the clergyman was asking the bride if she was ready, when a shell from a Union gun in the harbor broke into the room and burst. Nine persons were hurt, but only Miss Pickens' wound proved fatal. She bore the pain with wonderful fortitude, and was unmoved when informed that she had only an hour or two to live. De Rochelle said that he would like to have her die his wife, and the poor girl smiled sadly in assent. The guests remember the scene as far more pitiful than they can descrite. Washington Letter to Indiana The inther of the remarkable book, A Fool's Emand, is Albion W. Tourse. He was here and raised in Michigan, and is known by Congress-man Willitts, of that state. There he studied law, and was married, afterward moving to Ashtabula county, O., which is within the district now represented by Ron. James A. Garfield, to whom Nr. Tourgee is known. After the close of the war he moved to Raleigh, N. C., to enter the practice of law. Here he is well known to Colonel Keogh, the present secretary of the republican na tional committee. Mr. R. C. Badger, United States district attorney for North Carolina, who is now in Washington, said the other night: "I know Tourgee well, and have read his book. It's all true, and I know all the persons and most of the incidents mentioned in it. But the fact is Tourgee didn't do very well down there. He was most too radical in his views. After a struggle of fourteen years, during all of which time he and his family were ostracised, and during a portion

he is now in Colorado.

"It is a good example of the timidity of Washington merchants that for a month a copy of this book could not be bought here. The booksellers recognize the sympathy in this community for the 'lost cause,' and are careful not to offend it. Even the organ-grinder on the corner appreciates this. He doffs his Union blue which appeals to the north, dons the gray and hangs out his card-'Help a southern soldier.' And he is not mistaken in his estimate of the population, for he does a thriving business-1 am ashamed to say better than his other suit brings him in the

WHY THE POST OFFICE DEPART MENT IS NOT SELF-SUSTAIN-ING.

The real merits of the question relaing to the star service are imperfectly understood by the public at large, ye can easily be explained. It is not for additional service or trips on any given route The law provides that when the department allows the trips to be in-creased the contractor shall receive an increase of pay proportioned to the original price, that is to say, if he received $1,000 for earrying the mail one day in a week, and it was raised to seven days, he would get $7,000. The opening for fraud here is very limited.

The jobbery comes in where the speed in carrying the mails by coach, wagon, or on horseback, known in the department as "expedition," is increased at large additional cost and without a corresponding increase of expense or of advantage to the public Practically it may not be all, because this sort of service is mainly in distant territories with thin population, where the postmasters and agents on the routes are usually in the interest of the contractors, and report only

On me rounds this forenoon, Marshall Brackway struck a hidden-hand whisky lead-fall in a skylight parlor north of the entrance to the opera house. He had rently for pleasure, just to take a ride on some difficulty in effecting an entrance to the street cars and see the trains come in. the room, but finally did so, and found But last evning, between 6 and 7 o'clock. Thomas Gowan in charge. He had three the cause of his visits became apparent pints of bad whisky-warranted to kill at to those whose suspicions were aroused. 40 rods—and three glasses, as his stock in rade, and on his person was found a government license, which was taken out in February, in the name of "Groves and Conklin." Of course it was not transferable, but Gowan said he bought it of the parties named, and it was his property. The marshal took possession of the contents of the room and placed Gowan under arrest, though he begged hard to be let off. Gowan will have a hearing in a day or two. He is the father of the little boy who was blind drunk a few Sundays ago, and went recling through the streets, attracting a great crowd of people. The natural inference now is that the boy got his whisky on that occasion from his father's bottles.

Ms. Scruges, of Linn & Scruggs, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Linn, now in New York, in which the latter, referring to the condition of the dry goods market, says: "There were 1000 packages of foreign and domestic goods, from the stock of Mesars. Halsted, Hames & Co., damaged by water when the buildings were burned out, on the corner of White and Broadway, sold by order of the Underwriters, through Townsend & Fargis, on March, 2d instant, and, strange to say, brought higher prices than goods sold in the regular way, notwithstanding their damaged condition. The goods were sold or four months, and whether to attribute the high prices paid to this fact, or the ignorance, it may be, of country huyers, I Pittaburg Commercial: саппот вау."

THERE were about $50 people out to witness the Varney Family entertainment given at the tabernacle last night, and all appeared to appreciate the performance. The programme consisted of "A Morning Call," illustrating courtship in fushionable English society; Thad. Varney's original scene entitled, "Mr. and Mrs. Caudle at Home," concluding with a very laughable scene, "The Bashful Lover, or Primitive Courtship." Thad. Varney's famous recitation, "Shamus O'Brien," was splendidly done, and at the close won the most flattering applause. Little Vivian sung a couple of amusing songs in a manner that pleased the children hugely.

THE result of the warmiy-contested city election at Lincoln on Monday was a victory for the whisky ticket. The license candidate for Mayor, and three of the license candidates for aldermen were elected. One anti-hoense alderman was elected. The Springfield Journal of to-day says: "A number of Springfield people were present during the day, and on the announcement of the result the license men telegraphed for the German Band to take the midnight train, and participate in a grand rejoicing. The band responded, and were accompanied by a number of others."

MAYOR WACGONER gave the Carrolls a talk at their establishment on the Leyee | St. Nicholas. this morning. The Carrolls promise that they will do the square thing, and will sell no liquors in less quantities than one gallon. We believe all the out-of-the-way saloons are closed up, and that none will open for business until licenses are obtained. To do otherwise would be a bazardous course to pursue, as indicated by the mayor's prompt action.

Lappy Marriage at Plantie. On Wednesday evening, March 3, 1880, the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Morgan, three miles northwest of Niantic, was the scene of a delightfully pleasant social event, at which time Miss Leura Morgan, handsomely attired in India silk, was united in marriage to Mr. J. M. Oakes, a successwas Ralph Ely, engineer of locomotive ful farmer and stock miser of Mantic township. The ceremony was performed according to the impressive forms of the Church, by Rev. F. M. Dillon, of Illionolis, followed immediately by a splendid wedding repast, which was served in elegant style and discussed by the guests with a genuine relish. Following the supper came the hearty congratulations, when fun, mirth and enjoyment had their season until a late hour, when the guests took their departure. Among those present were Alexander

They were fairly carried away by the performance of the Church Choir Company, which was, vocally, one of the finest ever given in this city. Not content with the abundance of music in Pinafore, everything had to be repeated, which, to say the least, is commendable to the performers, who acted well and sung with vim and vigor. The voices of the different members of the company are rich and clear, and are beitz; handsome tollet set, by Mrs. Vanhook; cake stand and two pickle dishes, by the bride's mother; majolica butter dish, of unique design, by E. WHAT ELDER HAYNES SAID.

RDITORS REPUBLICAN:-- In your issue of yesterday your reporter places me in a wrong position, but uninten-tionally, no doubt. What I said at the tabernacle Saturday evening was this: "Mrs. Wells has said that the church spires point toward heaven. Some of them seem to point the other way. If all of the members of all the churches in this city had voted the temperance ticket last Tuesday we would have been triumphantly victorious. Now I do not propose to be a conscience for any man, and those church members who voted the license ticket must settle the matter with their own consciences and God. But if I had voted that ticket I [would go down to perdition. It would be no use to talk about pardon for me in such case; for God positively declares "If we sin willfully, after that we have received a knowledge of the truth, there remains no more sacrifice for sip, but a fearful looking for of judgment." This is the speech. My eyes see the licensing of dram-shops as a sin. Another man, equally as honest as myself, may not now see it as a sin. Because one differs with me, even on the license question, I do not set him down as a reprobate. I deem this explanation just because other things of similar kind have been misreported, not by your paper, however.

Now, another matter, if you please. Some good temperance people harshly condemn members of churches who do not work and vote as they do on this question. I am not apologizing for such members, but these non-members are mistaken in these criticisms. Let them quit their own sins, obey the gospel and earnestly try to live the Christian life, and then they will be in a position to cast the mote out of their brother's eye. The churches are schools of Christ where people are to be educated in the truth and trained in the right living. With all their discord they are still the great conservators of peace and good will among men. They are not elective, norant, the weak, the wicked may all come, to be taught, strengthened, loved and beloed by those moreadyanced in the divine life. It is the churches' business to save men, and for the love that must control them, read at your hour of worship this evening 1 Cor., 13 chapter.

Burdette in the Hawkeye.

What would I do without "the How aften they have been my boys?" friends. I go to a new town. I don't know one hotel from the other. I don't know where to go. The man with the samples gets off at the same station. I follow him without a word or a tremer. He calls to the 'bus driver by name and orders him to get out of this now, as soon as we are seated. And when I follow him I am inevitably certain to go to the best house there is in the place. He shouts at the clerk by name and fires a joke at the landlord as we go in. He looks over my shoulder as I register after him, and hands me his card with a shout of recognition. He peeps at the register again and watches the clerk assign me to 98. "Ninety nothing" he shouts, "who's in 15?" The clerk says he is saving 15 for Judge Dryasdust. "Well, he be blowed," says my cheery friend, "give him the attic and put this gentleman in 15." And if the clerk hesitates, he seizes the pen and gives me 15 himself, and then he calls the porter, orders him to carry up my baggage and put a fire in 15, and then in the same breath adds, "What time will you be down for supper, Mr. Burdette?" And he waits for me, and seeing that I am a stranger in the town, he sees that I am cared for, that the waiters do not neglect me he tells me about the town, the people and the business. He is breezy, cheery, sociable, full of new stories, always good natured; he frisks with cigars, and overflows with "thousand mile tickets;" he knows all the best rooms in all the hotels; he always has a key for the car seats, and turns a seat for himself and his friends without troubling the brakeman, but he will sit on the wood box or stand outside on the platform to accommodate a lady, and he will give up his seat to an old man. I know him pretty For three years I have been travwell. eling with him, from Colorado to Maine, and I have seen the worst and the best of him; and I know the best far out-business and financial prosperity seemed to spring into new life. Merchants are finding plenty of ready customers for their wares. echanics meet with ready employment at fair wages, and the farmers are receiving advanced prices for their products, and it is ac knowledged by all that in no part of our country are the evidences of presperity and comfort so marked as along the entire line of the "Old Reliable" Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad. And to attain these results the management of the Hannibal & St. Joseph Raifroad have given their careful thought and attention, and the rapid growth of busi-ness, and increasing wealth of the community along the whole line are evidences that their efforts are fully appreciated. We are, is usual, running in connection with the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad through Day Coaches, Reclining Chairs (Iree), and Pullman Steeping Cars from Chicago via Quincy to Missouri river points. Also through Day Coaches from Toledo and Indianapolis, with Pullman Sleeping Cars from Toledo via Danville, Springfield and Quincy, to Kausaa City, Atchison and St. Joseph without change Families traveling with children will find it greatly to their advantage to take the Reliable" H. & St. Jo.
